

I feel that since I pay for the service that I should be allowed to listen to what ever and who ever is able to be featured on XM Radio. This country was born on competition, someone can always do something "better", the "other guy" just has to find his nook in the market, a creative sole can do that. We should not support whining from a business, competition is good and should not be controlled by the government.